A PHILIPPINE Air Force helicopter, on orders from President Ferdinand E. Marcos, lifts Quirino Berja, 48, from the 60-foot coconut tree where he had spent 58 days. Berja went into the tree in July fearing that men who killed his son were after him. Marcos ordered the helicopter to the village 100 miles north of Manila in response to pleas from Berja's family. Pesticide Blamed For Tijuana Child Deaths

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — The death toll of Tijuana's mass poisoning mounted today as scientists said a pesticide found in bread may be the killer.

The pesticide, parathion, was blamed tentatively by seven U.S. chemists working at Sacramento, Calif. A spokesman said enough poison was found to kill children but not adults.

The dead—whose numbers as given by officials varied from 14 to 34—were almost all children.

The report of 34 dead came late Tuesday from Pedro Morales Malpica, district federal attorney general in Mexico City, the attorney general's office said it had learned officially of 18 dead.

In addition, about 250 others were being treated at hospitals and clinics.

In the grieving border city, stricken since Sunday, crying parents carried their young dead to clinics in their arms.

"The people, they keep coming. We do all we can, but there are too many," said Dr. Jorge Salas of the Red Cross clinic.

The disclosure that parathion had been discovered in bread brought release of 19 dairy officials and street milk vendors held for questioning since Monday.

A ban on milk was lifted, and residents of Tijuana stopped boiling their drinking water.

Fred Roth, chief of the residual pesticide laboratory of California's Department of Agriculture, said he and six other chemists found parathion in the stomachs of two of the stricken children.

An amount of parathion smaller than an aspirin tablet would kill an average sized man, Roth said. It is widely used in agriculture, particularly on vegetable crops.

It was theorized that the liquid pesticide spilled into flour that was later made into bread in Tijuana.

DMZ Fight Slacks Off; Jets Attack

SAIGON (AP) — The Communists slackened their month-long artillery battle of attrition along the demilitarized zone Tuesday and the focus of the war shifted to North Vietnam with American warplanes stepping up their raids despite swarms of Red jets and missiles.

North Vietnamese gunners fired 50 rounds to harass U.S. Marines at Con Thien, the key to American defenses blocking a possible Communist invasion of South Vietnam's northern provinces. But the heaviest shelling—350 rounds—fell on two South Vietnamese airborne battalions a few miles away.

U.S. planes mounted a near-maximum effort over North Vietnam after a week of bad weather and encountered blistering defenses over the port of Haiphong and the vital north-east rail line that links Hanoi and Red China.

The North Vietnamese put up nearly every fighter they could muster from the unbombed MIG airfield at Phuoc Yen. The Reds claimed downing five American jets but only one loss was acknowledged by the U.S. Command, and that was far to the south over the DMZ.

Air Force pilots reported many sightings of MIG17s and MIG21s, with three brief air battles and more attempts by Red fighters to sneak behind American planes on bombing runs.

Of the 35 jets North Vietnam is believed to have operational on fields below the Chinese frontier, at least half and probably more were in the air.

Once MIG21s attempted to drive a flight of Phantom jets into the path of a defensive net of Soviet-built ground-to-air missiles. The Phantoms broke off and saw two SAM missiles whiz by and blow up just out of range.

Navy pilots from the carriers Coral Sea and Intrepid smashed through SAM and anti-aircraft barrages to finish off two important bridges in Haiphong that had been damaged in previous strikes.

Unloading bombs weighing up to 2,000 pounds, Navy fliers hit the main highway and rail bridge on the road to Hanoi and the 658-foot highway bridge leaving the southwest section of the port. The campaign against the bridges is part of the effort to strangle exit routes from the port, already jammed with supplies unable to be moved.

The Navy pilots swept low to attack 23 anti-aircraft sites and four launching installations of SAM missiles.

Air Force, Navy and Marine pilots flew a total of 144 missions concentrating on other supply targets and the Red gunpits along the demilitarized zone. B52 bombers struck three times along the DOZ Tuesday night and today, laying down one saturation raid barely two miles from the muddy post at Con Thien.

The U.S. plane acknowledged down in North Vietnam near the DMZ was a Marine Phantom.

Its two fliers ejected and one was rescued but the other was listed as missing. It was the 684th U.S. plane reported lost in the North.

Marine gunners south of the DMZ hurled more than 6,000 shells northward in an effort to silence Red batteries.

But enemy batteries pummeled two South Vietnamese battalions sweeping between Con Thien and the coast 12 miles away. The Vietnamese reported light casualties.

The Marines at Con Thien lost three dead and 10 wounded, putting the unofficial total casualty toll since the sustained shelling began at 66 dead and 997 wounded.

Flood Miseries Pile Up Along Texas Border

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Flood miseries piled up on both sides of the Texas-Mexico border today as the raging Rio Grande put more thousands of people to flight and threatened even worse depredations.

Torrents gushing downstream sent water creeping higher in Harlingen, already hard hit, and the swollen river spread across ever widening areas in Northern Mexico.

Reports of 10 more deaths in Mexico meanwhile boosted the toll from Hurricane Beulah, which battered through this area more than a week ago, to 54 fatalities. That figure included 11 deaths in Texas.

Flooding drove 8,000 to 10,000 Harlingen residents from their homes. The Red Cross already was operating two shelters and said a fresh influx of evacuees forced the opening of two additional shelters. Many of the occupants had returned only the past day or two after taking refuge from Beulah's 160-mile winds in other cities.

Unofficial reports reaching Mexico City placed the number of homeless at one million across the Rio Grande, now five miles wide in places, in an area stretching from Reynosa downstream to Matamoros near the river's mouth.

In Harlingen the flood waters gushed down the Arroyo Colorado parallel to the river after a dam to prevent such a disaster broke two days ago.

Since then, the waters continue to thwart man's devices against them. Where dikes held, the water pressure reversed the intended flow of storm sewers washing into business district streets.

Makeshift sandbag babbles gave way in great sections. Only two hastily constructed dikes thrown together by big bulldozers which pushed black earth across two streets kept the brown waters from washing over the entire city.

The level still rose today after covering the south side of this city of 41,000 people and spreading over big sections of the north side.

The International Boundary and Water Commission ordered another area north of the Arroyo Colorado and south of U.S. Highway 83 cleared of people late Tuesday. Water rose four feet deep in some houses soon after the evacuation began.

LBJ 'Brainwashed' By Military: Morton

Romney Hailed As Hope Of Negroes

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who showed up at two Negro meetings on school complaints, was described by a Negro leader as the next president—"if he acts right."

But a state Republican leader said Tuesday night that Gov. Ronald Reagan of California—and not Romney—now is the strongest potential GOP presidential contender in Georgia.

Romney is making a tour of cities to study urban problems. His itinerary today included Kingstree and other areas in rural Williamsburg County, S.C. The announced purpose of his South Carolina visit is to try to determine whether there is any relationship between economic conditions in the South and Negro riots in the North.

Williamsburg is an economically depressed, predominantly Negro county in eastern South Carolina from which many Negroes have migrated north in recent years, largely to Rochester, N.Y.

The Michigan governor went to a church Tuesday where Hosea L. Williams told about 200 persons that Romney was "the next president of the United States, if he acts right."

Williams is an officer of Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) which is headed by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. who in 1964 opposed Republican Barry Goldwater's candidacy for president.

Georgia Republican Howard

H. (Bo) Callaway, who met with Romney at dinner, said earlier at a news conference that California's Reagan was the top potential presidential candidate in the state.

Callaway, defeated for governor by the Democratic legislature last January, told a news conference Reagan now is stronger in Georgia than Richard M. Nixon, the former vice president.

B. M. Harris of Ypsilanti was installed today as president of the MSMS for 1967-68 and Tuesday night James J. Lightbody of Detroit was named president-elect.

The House of Delegates Tuesday night approved an associate membership for Richard Remsburg, an osteopath from Alma. He becomes the first osteopath to gain associate membership status in the 102 year history of the MSMS.

The delegates also approved a resolution encouraging the county medical societies to offer associate memberships to local osteopaths on an individual basis.

Dr. Remsburg has been an associate member of the Gratiot-Isabella-Care Medical Society the past year and was recommended for state affiliation by the county group.

Michigan has about 1,800 registered osteopaths, more than any other state in the union, and 9,000 medical doctors.

Senator Urges U.S. Move To Halt Fighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Thurston B. Morton said today President Johnson was "brainwashed" by U.S. military and defense industry leaders into believing the United States could achieve a military solution to the Vietnam war.

The former Republican national chairman said Johnson in turn "brainwashed" the American people during the 1964 presidential campaign by saying the Southeast Asian war should be fought by Asians.

The Kentucky senator, regarded as a foreign policy spokesman for GOP Senate moderates, leveled his strongest attack to date on administration Vietnam policies at the organizational meeting of Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace.

His prepared remarks were released in advance.

They continued a slashing Republican attack on Johnson's policies that touched off an uproar in the Senate Tuesday.

The Business Executives Move for Vietnam Peace claims a membership that includes business leaders from 44 states.

Mr. Gave Warning

Noting that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower warned before leaving office in 1961 of the growing power of a "military-industrial complex," Morton added: "I believe that President Johnson was brainwashed by this power center as early as 1961 when, as vice president, he ventured to Saigon on a fact-finding mission."

Morton's remarks echoed in part Michigan Gov. George Romney's charge that Romney was brainwashed by U.S. military and diplomatic leaders in South Vietnam regarding U.S. involvement in the war.

Romney, a leading prospect for the GOP presidential nomination, said that as a result of what he was told in Saigon he supported the involvement but has now changed his mind.

Former Backer

Morton said he originally backed Johnson's escalation of U.S. troop involvement in the war. But today he said, "I have grave doubts that any military action, then or now, would have decisively influenced the conflict."

Containing a political solution in South Vietnam may already be out of reach, Morton called for a unilateral reduction of the U.S. military involvement, if necessary, to halt the fighting.

Morton's assertion that a political victory may be out of reach in Vietnam was echoed independently by Sen. Milton R. Young, R-S.D., a member of the select committee which oversees the operation of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Young Accres

"There is no possibility of establishing a sound, strong and responsible central government in South Vietnam in the foreseeable future," Young said in a report to his constituents.

A charge by Sen. Clifford R. Case, R-N.J., that Johnson put a "false face" on the 1964 Tonkin Gulf resolution by using it as authority to escalate the war brought a retort Tuesday from Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Dirksen said anybody "with a lick of sense" knew it was an open-ended commitment by Congress.

Dirksen, along with Sens. Russell B. Long, D-La., and Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, accused Johnson's critics of giving aid and comfort to the enemy.

Lansing Eyes Income Levy

LANSING (AP) — Residents of Lansing today face the possibility of a city income tax, a cut in city services next year or a property tax hike of $4 to $5.

City Finance Director Raymond Burgess has warned the city must have more money next year or drastically cut services.

The City Council set a meeting for Oct. 10 to consider a city income tax of one per cent on residents and one-half per cent on nonresidents.

Flint Hospital Pickets Return

FLINT (AP) — Pickets appeared at the Genesee Memorial Hospital in Flint for the second time today as hospital administrators prepared to seek a court injunction banning the demonstration by staff nurses.

The pickets want the hospital to agree to a closed shop, in which all nurses would be required to join the American Federation of County and Municipal Employees as a condition of employment. The hospital has insisted union membership should be a matter of individual choice.

Twenty-six nurses have stayed off their jobs since Friday, when they reported they were "sick."

One produce truck refused to cross the picket line Tuesday but otherwise hospital functions have not been affected, a spokesman said.

Michigan Pilot In MIG Brush

SAIGON (AP) — Capt. George Balog, 33, of Bronson, Mich., was in a flight of F105 Thunderchief fighter-bombers on which Communist MIG21s made a hit-and-run attack with missiles and cannon fire over North Vietnam today.

When Balog and his fellow U.S. pilots turned to engage the Russian-built MIGs, the Air Force reported the Communists fled.

Balog's Thunderchief was in a flight which attacked a surface-to-air missile site 39 miles east-northeast of Hanoi.

Bold Lakes Plan Asked As Spark To Development

WASHINGTON (AP) — The preliminary investment plan of the Upper Great Lakes Economic Development Commission should be ready for submission to Congress in January, Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said here.

Nelson urged the commission to develop a "bold, action-oriented program" to spur the economic development of northern Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota.

Extracts from a statement prepared for a Senate subcommittee hearing Tuesday on regional economic development programs were released by Nelson's office.

Priorities must be established for the Upper Great Lakes development program, Nelson said. "We can't in willy nilly fashion scatter our efforts and dissipate our funds."

Agriculture, industry and recreation and tourism in the area must be carefully planned and developed in an orderly manner, he said.

He urged the commission to support legislation to create a national system of wild and scenic rivers, several of which would be in the region, an Apostle Islands national lakeshore, and a national hiking trail system, including a north country trail across the three states.

New Tropical Storm Building

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Tropical storm Edith, churning the warm seas that spawned killer Hurricane Beulah, was reported intensifying today and forecasters said she would become the season's fifth Atlantic hurricane before nightfall.

Her top winds climbed to 60 miles an hour as she moved toward the west at 10 to 15 miles an hour. She was forecast to continue toward the west or take a slight turn toward the west northwest.

Gale force winds extended out 100 miles from the center.

At six a.m. (EDT), Edith was centered near Latitude 13.0 North, Longitude 51.5 West, a spot about 550 miles east of Barbados and a little more than 1,000 miles east southeast of San Juan, P.R. That was about 2,000 miles east southeast of Miami.

Naubinway Dream Of Marina Achieved

For Naubinway, a dream of 40 years has finally come true. Last week EDA regional Coordinator Thomas Angeli presented the community with a check for the first installment for the construction of a marina off Millecoquins Point.

Receiving the check for Garfield Township was Emmet Vallier, supervisor, and Stanley Jaroske, a community leader. Harold Dettman, chairman of the Mackinac County Board of Supervisors represented the county at the ceremony; and Lee Meyers represented UPCA, which provided the township with technical assistance in getting funds for the project. Ernest King, chairman of the local marina committee, was unable to attend the presentation.

A village of about 400 persons, Naubinway set its heart on a marina more than a generation ago. In the 1920's, the community tried without success to get the approval of the Army Corps of Engineers to deepen and expand its harbor. In 1956 the Michigan Waterways Commission was approached with a plan for a harbor of refuge and was interested, but was unable to support the project because of lack of funds.

In 1964 after an intensive effort by Garfield Township and Mackinac County officials, a plan was adopted to secure the financial support of both the Michigan Waterways Commission and the U.S. Economic Development Administration. In 1966, the two agencies agreed to finance the project on a roughly equal basis. Construction has now begun and will be completed in the spring of 1968. The total cost of the project is $166,850.

The marina is the first step in the development of a larger recreation complex. The marina itself will accommodate 16 boats up to 60 feet in size. Dockmaster's quarters will be included. In addition, the township has planned an intensive development in the area. Land has been acquired along the shoreline for park and beach development, and a number of commercial facilities are planned for construction. The county and the township will construct a new access road to accommodate volume traffic to the area.

For Naubinway itself, and for the county as a whole the project will have a measurable economic impact. Formerly, the community relied almost entirely on commercial fishing for its economic base, but has been gradually turning more toward tourism and recreation. The marina will be a key step in making the transition. It is expected that the recreational development that will result from the project will create 16-20 new jobs, and that $150,000 to $200,000 will be invested in new tourist oriented facilities.

In addition to its recreational use, the marina will play a vital role in promoting greater safety for small craft along the Northern Lake Michigan shore. It will provide the first harbor of refuge to be located between Manistique and Lake Michigan, a distance of 89 miles.

The planning for the marina is only one part of an overall economic development plan for Mackinac County. Under the leadership of the County Board a comprehensive plan has been developed which emphasizes expansion of recreation industries. In addition to the Naubinway project the plan includes establishment of a Gateway Park at St. Ignace and other developments.

U. Presidents Quit Bank Jobs

LANSING (AP) — Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, resigned Tuesday as a director of the Ann Arbor Bank, and Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, resigned as a director of two banks.

The resignations quickly followed a ruling by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley that an officer or governing board member of a state institution of higher learning may not serve as an officer or director of a private corporation doing business with the institution.

Hannah announced his resignation as a member of the board of directors of the Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit and of the American Bank and Trust Co. of Lansing in "immediate response" to Kelley's ruling.

"I do not want to be in the position of knowingly violating any law regardless of its merits or objectives," Hannah had said earlier.

Hannah said he would continue to serve as a director of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., relying on the opinion of the attorney general relating to state-regulated public utilities. Hatcher retained his post as a director of the Detroit Edison Co. and Tecumseh Products Co.

Kelley ruled that a college or university officer or board member serving as a director of a company with which his institution does business would be in a conflict of interest.

The attorney general ruled, however, that university officers and board members may safely serve as directors of public utilities coming under state regulation, even if the utilities serve their institutions.

Antipoverty Bill Has Rough Going

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration's $2.3 billion antipoverty bill is due for its first major test in the Senate, but in the House, discouraged Democratic supporters already are talking of putting off congressional action until next year.

Hard times for the bill were foreshadowed in the House as the result of a Tuesday night vote that slapped at the Office of Economic Opportunity, the antipoverty agency.

The House voted 241 to 132 to provide that no funds in a new juvenile delinquency program approved by the House can go to any agency connected with the OEO.

There had been no provision in the juvenile delinquency bill calling for the OEO to be involved in the program. But Rep. Joe D. Waggoner, D-La., backing the amendment, said he wanted to make sure the agency wouldn't get any of the money.

The antipoverty bill itself is in deep trouble in the House Education and Labor Committee. This bill covers continuation of such programs as the Job Corps, Head Start, Community Action and the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

Committee Republicans are pushing an alternative program to abolish the OEO, turning its programs over to existing agencies.

The Senate was to vote today on this question.

Rocket Derrick Saves Cow From 30-Foot Well

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Betsy may not be the cow that jumped over the moon but she's been lifted out of a well by a rocket derrick.

Betsy walked across an old well near here and the board cover gave way.

Betsy's plunge into 15 feet of water in a 30-foot deep well was observed by Erick Barrow, 8, a neighbor boy who unhesitatingly jumped in after her so he could hold her head above water.

Al Burger, 66, saw Eric jump in, so he jumped in too.

Together they kept Betsy's head above water until the nearby United Technology Center, a space age concern, could send a crane with a sling used to lift rockets.

The sling was placed under Betsy's middle and out she came. Today she was back at pasture with her calf.

Eric and Burger were brought out unharmed, too.

FIRST ROCKET to project a man, Russia's Yuri Gagarin, into space was put on view by the Soviet Union at the Russian Exhibition of Economic Achievement in Moscow. The actual space capsule in which Gagarin rode for one orbit around the earth is in the first stage at top.

Millions Asked To Lure Tourists

LANSING — The Michigan Tourist Council has called on Governor Romney and the Legislature to invest $2 million in tourist promotion to bring more than $100 million into the state treasury.

The Tourist Council's 1968-69 budget request, about double its present budget, was announced this week by James H. Hall, Council chairman.

"Unlike other state agencies which request funds to provide services, the Tourist Council is requesting money to produce revenue for the state," Hall said. "The tourist industry will produce in excess of $70 million in state taxes this year, a return of more than 70-to-1 on the state's investment in tourist promotion."

Hall said a $2 million budget would enable the Tourist Council to take full advantage of proven promotional techniques designed to attract vacationers to Michigan, year-round.

"A major goal of the expanded program is a 12-month advertising campaign as opposed to the two seasonal approach—spring-summer and autumn-winter—now conducted by the Council," Hall said.

The Tourist Council received $974,128 for tourist promotion in fiscal 1967-68, an increase of 5 per cent over the previous year.

The $2 million budget request approved this month by the Tourist Council was developed by a special Council committee including Kenneth Dorman, secretary-manager of the Association, Iron Mountain.

U.S. Dedicates New Embassy In Saigon Friday

SAIGON (AP) — The United States will dedicate its new, $26 million embassy, which is considered terrorist proof, in Saigon Friday.

Plans were begun only a few days after Viet Cong bombing of the old U.S. Embassy March 30, 1965, killed 22 persons—two of them Americans—and wounded almost 200.

President Johnson announced that work would begin immediately on a new $1 million embassy.

The cost of the glittering white, 250-room building grew gradually to $2.6 million.

It has a helicopter landing pad on the roof, a decorative concrete shield on the outside and shatterproof windows.

JUST DROPPED IN and thought I'd call, says service station manager Ronald Ritch of West Seneca, N. Y. Winds up to 85 m.p.h. toppled the phone booth just outside Ritch's gasoline station, and when he tried to call the telephone repair company to report it, he found the phone was still working.

Shepherd, commanding officer of the Pollux, on his record of outstanding service. operating with the U. S. Seventh Fleet in operations against Communist North Vietnam. The Pollux delivered supplies to the South Vietnamese night and day in all kinds of weather. The recognition was most significant because Duchaine was nominated by his superior officers and department heads. He is a 1966 graduate of Escanaba Area Public High School.

When Nature Changes

There may be better times than this in the Upper Peninsula — good old summertime, for instance, or good old frozen winter wonderland — but certainly we have a consensus — as Mr. Johnson says — on the suggestion that no other season compares with fall for color.

Now there may be some people who don't care for color. Certainly there are some who are "color blind" as we say, meaning that their world is a monochrome, and there are some unfortunate humans who never enthrust, exult or orbit about anything.

But most of us are luckier and color "sends" us just as surely as money, although not necessarily to the same places, nor in the same kind of a trance. Eugene Field, the poet, wrote a perky sonnet many years ago about "Any color, so long as it's red" (is the color that I like best; though I will agree there is much to be said for yellow and green and the rest, etc.)

No place in the more familiar parts of the world has higher color than the uplands of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan when the soft maples turn scarlet before they let their leaves fall and wrap themselves in their limbs to shiver and shake through winter.

Even the people who live here stop to look and that's about tops in impression. When the natives acknowledged that anything is special — anywhere — it has got to be a humdinger. That's what autumn is in the Upper Peninsula.

It has proved a rather hard thing to sell to esthetes, our Indian Summer kaleidoscope, because the season of its offering is out of joint. The kids are in school and may burn the house down or have a block party if the old folks take off for a few days and tell them to behave, so the family touring is over for the year.

As a result we see mostly the retired and the childless on our highways in late September and October. The Michigan Tourist Council sends anyone who wants it a postcard telling when the woods are illuminated by nature and each year there is an increase in the number of persons who go forth to fill their eyes with enough color to last until Easter.

It must be seen to be believed. Color photography has improved greatly in recent years and it brings a much better impression of fall foliage than was possible formerly, but the scenery is so overwhelming that the best photograph is only a capsule impression.

Photography adds to the pleasure of the color tour for most people and they take home a record of aspens as yellow as Midas' dreams, and of dainty paper birches that dangle yellow leaves amidst their green leaves, as though unable to make up their minds (like so many ladies) which color they want. The aspens are a lovely mixture of ochre and light green and the beeches still are a deep rich green that will gradually and very reluctantly become a burned orange.

But it's the maples, of course, that are the forest's extroverts. The sugar maples become yellow and the soft maples become red, every hue of red, and sometimes seemingly every hue on one tree. When you pick up a leaf that has surrendered it may be as impressive (artistically) as money in large denominations but it's really just confetti until you hang it on the tree and stand back to see what Nature can do when it tries hard.

This is the reason that Rembrandt painted old men and that Rubens painted fat women: it's much easier than to paint a forest in color bloom. Our beginning painters are usually torn between tackling a sunset or a fall forest. Both of them are nearly unpaintable, but then, what fun to watch them while failing to capture them! It's like a date with an angel; you really don't expect to take her home.

"Don't Just Stand There, Break Up the Riots!"

Czech Trains Unreliable, Student Visitor Learns

This is the third of a series of articles by Donald E. Miller of Ann Arbor, who spent 14 months traveling in Europe and attending the University of Zurich.

By DONALD E. MILLER

It was time to say good-bye to my friends in Budejovice.

The name Budejovice, by the way, may not ring a bell with most Americans, but its German name may: It's Budweis. The city was highly Germanized for two centuries, until the end of World War I, and produces, among other things, beer.

Though I had only brought one suitcase with me to Budejovice, I was leaving with two of them, the latter filled with souvenirs, some of which I had bought and some of which had been given to me.

The problem was to get them to the railroad station from my friend Jan's home. There were no taxis in Budejovice, my friend had no car and the suitcases were very heavy.

"Listen, Don, I have an idea," said my friend. "Let's put your suitcases in the baby carriage. The baby can ride on top. How does that sound?"

It sounded fine to me, so we did it.

Over Rail Bridge

My friend's home was literally on the other side of the tracks. To get to the railroad station entrance, we had to cross over a steel railroad bridge.

There was always the possibility that you could be caught on it when the coal-burning Czech trains passed underneath, sending up thick black billows of smoke which enveloped and choked you. I had seen this happen, from afar, and though it was funny to watch, no one ever caught in the smoke ever emerged laughing.

"Well, Jan," I said as we neared the bridge, "what do you think? Will we get it this time?"

"No, Don," he answered. "I know the train schedule, and the next train isn't due to pass here for 30 minutes. Have no fear!"

Unexpected Development

So, our entourage of baby carriage, my friend, mother-in-law, and sister-in-law, the baby and I—began making our way across the bridge.

Suddenly, from around the bend, an express train gasped and coughed toward us. We were trapped! We couldn't run, we couldn't walk, we just stood there, letting the thick cloud of heavy, black smoke surround us.

After the train had passed, my friend looked anxiously at me, his face, like mine and everybody else's, black with soot.

"Gee, I'm sorry, Don," he said. "Train schedules aren't very dependable around here."

The good-byes at the railroad station were painful. Though I had known these people only two weeks, I had gotten to feel very close to them. As the train pulled out of the station, I heard my friend saying:

"Come back to Budejovice, Don. Come back to us."

From Budejovice, I traveled to Prague, Czechoslovakia's capital nicknamed "The Golden City." But though like all tourists in Prague, I went to the Opera, saw world-famous Hradcany Castle and visited Wenceslas Square, in the heart of the city, my most vivid memories of Prague are of bed, tea and a toilet.

For I got violently sick in Prague, after I had asked a waiter in a cheap restaurant to bring me something good but cheap, and spent most of my time there sleeping and drinking tea in bed.

Two Routes To Berlin

In my sickness, I spent some time considering the next stop on my journey. West Berlin. There were two routes.

There was the "safe" route from Prague west to Nuremberg, West Germany, and then from Nuremberg north and east along an internationally-recognized access route to West Berlin. This was also the longer and consequently the more expensive route.

And there was also what some considered the "dangerous" route. This ran through East Germany to East Berlin, then to West Berlin. I decided to take the latter.

Air Of Mystery

The three passenger cars and dining car of the sleek, modern, grey and red express had few passengers, and there was somehow an air of mystery and intrigue about the train which would have done justice to the best days of the Orient Express.

In my own car, which had room for 72 passengers, there were nine; eight in one compartment at one end of the car and me in one compartment at the opposite end. We left Prague's Strad Station at six in the evening and moved out into the night. We would not arrive in East Berlin until 1 in the morning.

Thoughts Interrupted

I was apprehensive at the thought of even crossing East Germany, which is the most dictatorial and unfriendly of all the Communist satellites in Europe.

My thoughts were suddenly interrupted as the door of the compartment opened. I looked up and saw the friendly Czech conductor.

"May I have your ticket, please?" he smiled.

"Sure thing. Here you are. On by the way, have you crossed into East Germany yet?" I asked apprehensively.

The conductor grinned knowingly. "No," he said, "you can relax. You're still in Czechoslovakia."

We both laughed, and for the same reason. East Germany for both of us was something very strange and something distinctly not good, though for different reasons.

Hated Each Other

I would feel uneasy in East Germany because it was Communist and strongly so. The conductor would feel uneasy there because he was Czech, the East Germans were Germans, and the Czechs hated the Germans because of what they did to Czechoslovakia from 1938 to 1945. The fact that both countries were then Communist countries made no difference to him or to any other Czech patriot.

Minutes after he had spoken, the train slipped over the border and stopped for customs inspection at the first border town, Bad Schandau. I watched through the window as three customs officers got on the train; soon they opened my compartment door.

"Passport, bitte," one of them asked while the other two watched, "and transit visa."

"Here's my passport. I have no transit visa, but I'll pay for it now, OK?" (This was standard operating procedure. You could purchase a transit visa at the border.)

Question Of Money

"Of course, that will be five West German marks."

"Oh, I'm sorry. I don't have any West German marks. I'll pay with an American Express Travelers Check. They told me in Prague that I could."

"You'll pay with WHAT?" the officer asked.

"With an American Express Travelers Check," I replied. "You know what they are, don't you. They're good all over Europe."

"But they're NOT good here." The officer was mad now. "Give us the money."

"But I don't have any. All I have is one West German mark, and I want to buy a salami sandwich with it. I'm hungry."

Trio In Huddle

He looked at me and glowered. He started to say something, then changed his mind. The three of them started talking quickly, hands flailing through the air. I thought they were going to take me off the train, maybe even arrest me. Finally, the huddle broke up, and the leader approached me.

"I'm really sorry," I said. "But they told me in Prague that American Express Travelers Checks were good in East Germany."

"Well, there's nothing any of us can do about it now," the officer muttered. "Give us the one West German mark."

Arrival In Dresden

"But I'll go hungry," I protested. "Can't you let me cross East Germany free. A gesture toward American-East German friendship or something like that?"

"Give us the money!" he demanded.

And the three of them left my compartment with the money.

The train moved through East Germany. I was starved and, to assuage my hunger, I slept through most of the rest of the trip. I awakened, though, as the train moved into the railroad station of what looked like a very large city. This, I knew, was Dresden.

Brief Encounter

On the platform were many people, and I opened the window to get a closer look. One young man took notice of me, and for a few minutes, we more or less stared at one another. Finally, I broke the ice:

"Hello, I'm from America," I said in German.

"Really?" he smiled. "Are you really from America?"

Before he could say anything else, an armed soldier approached him.

"That's enough," the soldier snapped, pushing him with the rifle, "get out of here."

He did, and I went back to sleep.

At 1 in the morning, the train moved into the main railway of East Berlin, the Ostbahnhof. I staggered wearily outside and asked the first passerby I saw for directions to the subway to West Berlin.

In his late 30s, he was shabbily dressed, but friendly: "Are you really going to West Berlin?" he asked. "West Berlin is good."

"You mean?" I said half-yawning but suddenly interested. "East Berlin is not so good."

He shrugged his shoulders, smiled, and moved off. He had noticed a soldier approaching us.

Ann Landers

Anyway, Signs Are Popularity Proof

Dear Ann Landers: The letter from "Ashamed Screaming Mother" had special meaning for me because my own mother was the champion screamer of all times.

A child never forgets when a mother says, "I wish you had died when you were a baby."

You have been a terrible disappointment to me." Or—"You ruined my life. I wish I had never had you." It's unbelievable the soul-searing things that can come out when a nut begins to yell her head off.

My mother's favorite expression after one of her screaming fits was, "I love you so much I would walk into the ocean to save you." Since we lived 1,000 miles from the nearest ocean I could see no chance of her proving her love in this dramatic manner. I once said to her, "If you love me so much why don't you just treat me a little better and stop saying awful things?"

I'm a grown woman now and my mother has been in a mental institution for many years, but I can truthfully say I have little or no compassion for her. I have tried to be forgiving but it is impossible to erase those horrible childhood memories.

Please get this vital message across to all screaming mothers everywhere. It could save their youngsters a lot of grief. —ONE WHO SURVIVED

Dear One: It is difficult to get ANY message across to a mother who would say to her child, "I wish you had died when you were a baby," and then, minutes later, offer to walk into the ocean to prove her love. You might just as well try to bore a hole through a brick wall with a toothpick.

Your mother's wide emotional swings indicate that she was a very sick woman. What I would like to tell all screaming mothers everywhere is this: When you feel yourself slipping out of control, get professional help. Don't wait until you slide over the edge. It may be too late.

Dear Ann Landers: Don't give me heck. Just tell me what to do. I am 19 now and have grown up a lot these past three years.

When I was a junior in high school there was a fad. If a fellow liked a girl he gave her a street sign. I now have in the basement of our home signs which read Yield. Slow. Dangerous Curve. Stop. Go. No

Drinking may be "in" to the kids you run with — but it can put you "out" for keeps. You can cool it and stay popular. Read "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only." Send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Passing Allowed, and Soft Shoulder.

I would like to take these signs back but I don't know where they belong. Also, I don't want to get into trouble. Will you please tell me what to do?

—CHANGED SIGNALS

Dear Changed: Telephone the police and ask if they will send someone from the Traffic Department to your home to pick up the signs, or if they would prefer that the signs be brought to the nearest station.

Be aware that you are in possession of property which you do not rightfully own. I am hopeful that the police will be lenient since you are volunteering to return the signs.

And, by the way, I hope no lives were lost because some fun-loving kid removed a sign which was placed at a critical spot for a very good reason.

Confidential to Want To Help: You are not a physician and neither am I. It is a fact that some skin eruptions are caused by emotional problems, but I would not attempt to diagnose the case and neither should you. Suggest that your friend see a specialist.

Hungry Player Blames Partner

no problem. He had a nice five card spade suit and bid it.

The two spade bid also gave North a chance to talk. He had almost bid three hearts over two. Now he went to three hearts over the two spade bid.

East was one of those hungry players. His doubtful double had succeeded in pushing South from two hearts to three hearts. He should have been willing to let well enough alone and try to beat the three heart contract out. East doubled again.

West thought about going to three spades but decided to trust his partner. West had a good lead against hearts and a probable spade trick. That ought to prove enough if East had his double.

There wasn't much to the play. South ducked the spade opening and played low when West shifted to a heart. East took his king and led the suit back. When both opponents followed South breathed easier since he was able to ruff his third spade. He wound up losing one trick in each suit.

Strangely enough, East was better about the whole thing. He felt that West should have gone to three spades. As for West, he is looking for a new partner!

All Michigan Children Are Back In Schools

DETROIT (AP)—All of Michigan's school children were back in classrooms today as contract settlements in suburban Hamtramck and the Wisconsin border community of Menominee ended 20 days of teacher disputes which had disrupted the education of nearly a half million youngsters in 26 school districts.

Meanwhile, Circuit Judge John M. Wise said Tuesday that the troubled suburban North Dearborn Heights district "will have to be dissolved or merged" because of an apparent stalemate in bargaining between the union and school board.

Loggers' Roads Can Be Closed For Protection

LANSING — Regional field managers of the Conservation Department have been authorized to temporarily close state forest logging roads at the request of commercial timber operators who have built them.

The new policy to bar public travel is designed to protect the operator's costlier investment in constructing these roads until they have an opportunity to use the routes for their logging operations.

As soon as the roads are used by timber cutters, they will also be open to the public.

Department foresters explain that the temporary restriction is prompted by larger state forest timber sales in recent years and the advent of heavier logging equipment which have required longer and better constructed roads than before.

Tied to this is the increasing number of hunters and other users who have traveled these logging roads to gain access into remote areas. Commercial timber cutters have complained that camper trucks, jeeps, and other vehicles have done considerable damage to newly constructed roads, particularly during rainy seasons.

The road closure rule will be used "sparingly," will not cut off public access on any routes used in previous years, department spokesmen said.

Under the new policy, roads already in use will not be closed even though they are repaired by commercial loggers. Lack of shrub or tree growth will be considered evidence of use.

school board accepted their resignations.

North Dearborn Heights schools have been open on a half-day basis with the use of substitute teachers.

Seek School Closing

Board attorney Royal Targom moved to have the injunction dismissed and Bernard Fieger, representing the North Dearborn Heights Federation of Teachers, agreed, but said he would file suit to have the schools closed.

Fieger said the schools were unsafe and violated state law.

Hamtramck's 130 teachers, members of the Michigan Federation of Teachers, ratified a pact hammered out at an all-night bargaining session arranged by Circuit Judge Victor J. Baum, who told the parties he would not invoke a return-to-work injunction because he did not believe in such methods to settle labor disputes.

Must Pay Dues

The new pact calls for a starting salary of $6,100 for teachers with a bachelor's degree to a maximum of $10,100 after 10 years and $6,500 for a master's degree with $11,000 after 10 years. The old salary schedule ranged from $5,700 to $9,100 for a BA and $6,100 to $9,900 with an MA.

Hamtramck teachers also won agreement on limiting class sizes to 30 students and an agency shop clause, establishing that new teachers must pay dues to the Hamtramck Federation of Teachers even if they do not join the union.

At Menominee, some 200 teachers, all members of the Menominee Education Association, ratified a new contract Tuesday. The Menominee School Board said the settlement would be financed by a $130,000 in deficit spending.

The agreement called for a starting salary of $5,500 for the fall semester and that this would be boosted to $5,700 for the second semester, beginning in February.

Only College Unsettled

Maximum salary for teachers with a master's degree and 30 hours of additional study was set at $10,184.

The only other unsettled dispute was at Lake Michigan Community College in Benton Harbor where students demonstrated Tuesday carrying a coffin in a mock burial of the faculty.

Robert Blackwell, executive secretary of the Michigan Labor Mediation Board, said no new negotiations had been set and it was possibly the college would be closed for the fall semester unless a break came soon.

City Court Ban Is Protested

SAGINAW (AP)—Officials of three cities today attacked a legislative plan to abolish municipal courts in reorganizing Michigan's lower court system. "I strongly feel we should retain municipal courts," Charles A. Forrest Jr., Flint city attorney, told a State Senate Judiciary Committee hearing.

Forrest said the Flint Municipal Court makes a profit of about $900,000 a year, which defrays the cost of law enforcement in the city.

"This is an important part of our law enforcement," he said. Mayor Robert Anthony of Alma and W. Vincent Nash, Saginaw city attorney, also spoke out against the reorganization plan.

The court reorganization is a prime topic slated to come before the special fall session of the Legislature next month. Revamping of the courts was called for by the 1963 Michigan Constitution.

One legislative bill calls for a system of district courts to replace municipal courts, justices of the peace and circuit court commissioners.

"It would be a mistake to abolish municipal courts in communities where they have served for many years," Nash said.

Anthony said it would mean less effective administration of justice in Alma. He said a district court in Gratiot County would cause construction of a new courthouse and "we can't afford the luxury of paying for two courts."

Chairman of the hearing, the first of four scheduled in Michigan, was Sen. Robert L. Richardson, R-Saginaw. He is chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee. Five state representatives also attended the hearing.

Sniffing Party Hostess Arrested

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (AP)—A Klamath Falls woman who is accused of having played hostess at a glue sniffing party has been charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

A grand jury indictment accused Vera Hutchinson, 20, of providing the glue and allowing minors to sniff glue in her presence.

Dist. Atty. Sam McKeen said since there is no law in Oregon against sniffing glue, this approach might be the only way to attack the problem.

Kokanee Salmon Taken In Black

The past week of September's changing weather has seen strong gusty winds making the Great Lakes a turbulent "death trap" for the careless fishermen. Salmon and lake trout fishermen are warned to heed the small craft warning and only go forth in boats suitable to the conditions. Be sure to carry life jackets, oars, compass rope and anchor.

Coho (Silver) Salmon — Some fish in the 4 to 8 pound class still being taken off Grand Marais in Lake Superior. One 4 pound fish was reported taken in East Bay which would indicate that coho stragglers may use the Sucker River as a spawning ground.

Rainbow Trout — Chippewa County — Andrus Lake (good); Mackinac County — Carp River (Fair); Black River (Good); Luce County — Two Hearted River (Fair); Schoolcraft County — Thompson Bay (Good); Bear and Clear Lakes (Fair).

Whitefish — Chippewa County In shallows of upper St. Mary's River (Fair), using small minnows as bait.

Lake Trout — Season closes on Oct. 5. Some nice trout in 6 to 15 pound class are available in Grand Sable Lake. Recommend trolling in 8 to 20 foot depths using spoons and darters. Lake trout can also be taken off Grand Marais about 3 miles off the harbor. Use caution as winds are most erratic at this time of year.

Walleye — Chippewa County — Lake Nicolet at 6 mile point, fish in 5 to 6 pound class being taken on night crawler harness; Mackinac County — Les Cheneaux Channels (Fair), using worms. Luce County — Tahquamenon River (Fair).

Northern Pike — Chippewa — Lake Nicolet (Fair); Carp Lake (Fair); Luce County — Perch Lake (Good); Blind Sucker Flowage (Good); Mackinac County — Les Cheneaux Channels (very good), using live and artificial baits, Manistique Milleakia and Millecoquin Lake (Fair); Schoolcraft County — Snyder Lake (Fair); Manistique Harbor (very good).

Frank Beaudoin of St. Ignace caught a 9" mature Kokanee (sockeye) salmon in the Black River on Sept. 16. This fish is evidently a stray from a Canadian plant in Upper Lake Huron or a Michigan plant in Torch Lake.

Seek Compromise In State Gill Net Ban

Amendment Of Proposal Asked By Legislators

The controversial proposal of the Michigan Conservation Department to virtually ban the use of gill nets—which commercial fishermen say will put them out of business—appears to be headed for compromise at the Legislative level.

Two Northern Michigan legislators at a hearing in Escanaba Tuesday warned the Department to go slow on the application of the ban and give the Legislature a chance to work out some acceptable amendments.

Rep. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee) said he believes the answer to the problem is in Bill 404, which he said will be considered by the Legislature when it convenes on Jan. 2. Then a "true compromise" that considers the interest of the public, the commercial and sports fishermen can be worked out, he said.

Asked to "Hold Up" Jacobetti in testifying at the hearing held in the State Office Building asked the Department to "hold up on any action whatsoever until proper studies can be made and hearings held by the Legislature—hearings such as this being held here today."

"We must seek out a workable solution to this problem," he said. If the Department insists on banning gill nets "then it is incumbent upon me to see that those affected receive fair and equitable treatment." Jacobetti added that he and others enjoy a good fish dinner and that the only way fish can get to market is through the operation of a fishery.

Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) said he had discussed the proposed ban on gill nets with both sports fishermen and commercial fishermen.

He said he saw the introduction of salmon into the Great Lakes waters by the Department to develop a sports fishing industry as "a great boon" but he questioned whether it should be done at the expense of the commercial fishing industry.

Driven To Welfare?
If Michigan bans gill nets but other states and Canada do not, it will be unfair to the people of Michigan, and particularly to the commercial fishermen, Varnum pointed out.

"I don't see driving these people to welfare," he said. At the same time he spoke in praise of the coho salmon program and its objective in giving sports fishing and the resort industry a boost, and said that through Bill 404 and compromise it is possible to have both, in his opinion. He reported that Dr. Wayne Today, the Department's chief of fisheries, agreed that a compromise is possible.

The hearing in Escanaba on Tuesday, one of three in the Upper Peninsula, was conducted by Doris J. Curry, Marquette, regional manager for the Department. A hearing was held at Houghton on Monday and the third is in Newberry today.

Deep Water Only
The basic proposal of the Department is to prohibit the use of gill nets in Michigan waters of Lake Superior and Lake Michigan, except gill nets of 2 1/2 to 2 3/4 inches mesh size, set on the bottom in 50 fathoms or more of water for taking chubs.

It is the position of the Conservation Commission that commercial fishing must be regulated and the use of gill nets controlled so that the maximum benefit can come from the Great Lakes. Salmon that are being planted in Lakes Michigan and Superior are being taken in the gill nets, which were described as "lethal and wasteful."

The proposed gill net ban, tentatively approved by the Commission on Aug. 11, is scheduled to go into effect next year—Feb. 15 on Lake Michigan and April 1 on Lake Superior.

Curry said that if the proposed ban on gill nets is changed the Conservation Department will ask the Legislature for the authority to establish a "controlled fishery" on the Great Lakes. He invited testimony from all of the approximately 125 persons present and encouraged them to speak up for the record in support of or in opposition to the proposal.

Room For Both
Roy Jensen of Escanaba, representing the Michigan Fish Producers Association, was the first to testify.

He said that vast areas of the Great Lakes are now closed and some have been or many years closed to commercial fishing. In some instances this has resulted in fish population increases that are without benefit to the public because none are being harvested, he noted.

There is room for both the sports fishermen and the commercial fishermen, he said. There will always be the need of a commercial fishing industry to remove undesirable species, he added.

If the gill net ban is put in effect it will require that commercial fishermen restrict use of gill nets to the bottom in 300 feet of water or more, and this will result in so few fish being harvested that the fishermen cannot stay in business, Jensen said.

Support Ban
He directed attention to the differences in regulation of fishing in other states and Canada and the discrimination that would result against Michigan fishermen. Jensen urged that the gill net ban be set aside and that both commercial and sports fishermen work for a "limited entry" for commercial fishing.

Commercial fishermen are not opposed to the planting of salmon but they suggest that until more studies are made to determine the future of the fish in Great Lakes waters, no change be made in commercial fishing regulations, he said.

The viewpoint of the sports fishermen was represented in a statement presented at the hearing by Jack Sisson of Escanaba, vice president of Michigan United Conservation Clubs.

Sisson said the MUCC advocates change in regulation so the Conservation Commission can do "a proper management job on the Great Lakes." The newly planted salmon and trout must be "guarded against unnatural mortality," but the taking of carp and suckers should be continued.

Many Testify
The proposed restrictions on commercial fishermen are "severe" but the MUCC believes they will not "break the industry." The MUCC has long sought fishing regulations that will improve the Great Lakes fishery, and the gill net ban will make it a little more difficult for commercial fishermen but it will not "destroy" them, Sisson said.

Voices were heard in testimony in support or in opposition to the ban, and some asked for compromise as a solution.

Speaking against the gill net ban besides Jensen were Mrs. Francis Thill, Marquette; Roy Hancock, Westmore; Harriet Wilkins, Marquette; Victor Ekstrom, Menominee; Harold Goodman, Washington Island; George Wolf, Munising; Robert Sellman, of Manistique and Grand Marais; Royal Tallman, Manistique; Jerome and Paul VanLandtschoot, Munising; Mrs. Steven Ellefson, Washington Island; Robert Mattson, Munising; Thomas Peterson, Fayette; Robert Peterson, Manistique; Hector Peterson, Fayette; Anette Katarincic, Escanaba; John Bjork, Munising; Elmer Larson, Bark River; Frank Gudwer, Perkins; Pat Finlan Gladstone; and others.

Favoring the gill net ban in addition to Sisson were Ed Aplegren, Gladstone; Bruce Davis, Republic; Dick Seibert, Escanaba; Albert Wickham, Rapid River; Walter Lindberg, Gladstone; Roy Olson, Escanaba; Arthur Schaffer of Escanaba; and others.

At the conclusion of the hearing Roy Jensen of the Michigan Fish Producers Association requested commercial fishermen to stay for a few minutes so that he could make an arrangement with them to assist the Conservation Department in taking coho salmon for propagation purposes.

He announced that Dr. Wayne Today, the Department's chief of fisheries, asked the help of commercial fishermen to go to Frankfort and take eggs from 10,000 salmon for hatchery purposes.

Get Involved In Community, Clubs Urged

Dr. Otto Yntema, director of field services at Western Michigan University, Tuesday urged community service clubs and organizations to become involved in community problems.

The keynote speaker at a conference on "Planning Programs for Community Needs" sponsored by Bay de Noc Community College and the Upper Peninsula Field Service Committee, Yntema said that unless problems are recognized and dealt with in an orderly fashion, all we have in a community is "government in an emergency."

And this approach, he said, leads to hasty and often unacceptable solutions. "The voice of the people is the minority," he said. "Only two to five percent of the people do more than go to the polls."

"There is a colossal indifference to public problems," he emphasized, "and this is why we are ineffective. We only work in an emergency, when we are on the hot seat."

Clubs Can Help
Yntema pointed out in his home city of Kalamazoo the city recently constructed a sewer plant and has been geting its share of praise for helping halt pollution of the Kalamazoo River. He said, however, that the community knew it was polluting the river in 1913 and that not until it was ordered to construct a sewer plant by the state was action taken.

He added that Kalamazoo currently faces a problem with sanitary landfill sites for dumping purposes, but the time to have acted was several years ago.

This is where community service clubs and organizations can help, he continued, by recognizing the problems and educating the people to them through the use of more effective programming.

"We know the problems, have the tools and we have the money to solve them," he said. "Let's get going."

Yntema said that most community groups are concerned with local problems and recommend that the groups start thinking about them to develop plans for action.

"I don't think any adult education is any good unless it results in community action," he said.

Problems Cited
Local problems cited by persons attending the conference at the Terrace included public apathy toward local government, education and politics, lack of adequate housing, recognizing the needs of the aged, law enforcement, lack of coordination between associated cities and governing bodies, as well as employment, youth problems, poverty, air and water pollution, etc.

Dr. William Butt of Bay de Noc Community College pointed out that "right here we have a nucleus of a whole series of programs" for area organizations.

Dr. Richard Rinehart, in welcoming the group, said "we need to learn in many different ways. The problems of an area cannot be solved unless we have an informed citizenry. Service clubs and organizations can help through better programs."

Driver License Restrictions Hit An All Time High

LANSING (AP) — Driver license restrictions by the state hit an all time high of 34,000 during the first eight months of 1967. Secretary of State James M. Hare reports.

Hare said here that although the number of hearings by State Department driver improvement personnel dropped, the number of restricting actions totaled 2,000 more than the same period last year and nearly 12,000 more than the first two-thirds of 1965.

Actions included cancellations, revocations, suspensions, denials, referrals to county driver safety schools and restrictions.

"Records indicate that we're hitting the 'scallops' with tougher actions," Hare said. He added that it was impossible to measure the impact tougher actions have had on Michigan's traffic records for the year.

Mandatory suspensions for accidents, drunken driving and unsatisfied judgments totaled 14,500 for the first eight months, Hare said.

Dennis was commissioned by the Department of the Interior to find out whether America's largest woodpecker, the ivory-billed, was extinct, as ornithologists feared, or whether some pairs still survived in remote swamps and deep forests where there are the dead trees in which the woodpeckers find the insects they eat. Dennis reported "several pairs" in eastern Texas and is in hopes of finding more in some areas in the southeastern states.

we care

how many ribs
in a pork loin
rib portion?

We think there should be seven.

Not five or six.

With A&P's seven-rib portion, you get more of the select meat.

How can you tell how many ribs you're getting?

It's easy.

With your fingers, you can feel and count the rib bones in the package.

Next time you're buying a Pork Loin Rib Portion, check it.

If you can't count one, two, three, four, five,
six, seven ribs, you're missing select meat.

You're not getting the best value for your meat dollar.

Seven-Rib Pork Loin Portions are just one example of the full value A&P meats offer.

We think that caring like this about fair portions has helped make A&P America's largest meat retailer.

When you think about it, shouldn't A&P be your store?

Oslund Signed For 300 Shows

The signing of contracts for over 300 performances in 10 midwest states was announced today by Dick Oslund, Escanaba professional magician. The appearances are for school assemblies, Oslund stated.

The School Assembly Service of Chicago, which arranges tours for various educational and entertainment programs, will schedule Oslund's magic program in Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Iowa schools during the fall of 1968.

Starting the spring of 1969, the Bureau of Lectures and Concert Artists of the University of Kansas will book the program in Kansas, Nebraska, Arkansas and surrounding states.

An option for a tour in the fall of 1969 has also been set, said Oslund. In addition, a western university is interested in the program for all of 1970.

Recently returned to the Upper Peninsula, after eight and a half years as a Boy Scout Executive, Oslund is well known to program committees in the midwest. For over 20 years he has appeared at banquets, conventions and clubs in a half dozen states.

The school program is billed as "Fun & Fantasy — with a bit of philosophy." It has an educational message according to the brochure issued to school administrators. The values of preparation, practice, and persistence are subtly yet forcefully stressed to the students.

Since the early 1940's, when he began entertaining local groups, Oslund has added many specialties to his performance in addition to magic tricks. Juggling stunts, novelty paper folding, and the ancient art of chapeauography are featured in his shows. Adept at picking pockets, he finds this skill a highly acceptable form of entertainment for adult and teenage audiences.

His "Balloon Circus" features the creation of a whole menagerie of comic animals from toy balloons. When presented for schools, the "Circus" usually has a built-in safety theme. For teenagers and adult groups, Oslund has an entirely different act billed as "Hilarious Hokus."

This fall, he is accepting engagements in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Arabs, Israelis Clash At Ismailia On Suez Canal

By The Associated Press

Egyptian and Israeli forces clashed at Ismailia on the Suez Canal today in the ninth breach this month of the Middle East cease-fire.

In Cairo, the Egyptians claimed the Israelis opened up a heavy artillery attack on the city midway on the 105-mile canal.

Israeli officials in Tel Aviv claimed Egyptian forces started the clash with machinegun fire on an Israeli patrol on the east bank of the canal 10 miles south of Ismailia. They said the Israeli troops returned the fire, then agreed to a call for a cease-fire by U.N. truce observers.

But 10 minutes before the cease-fire was to go into effect, the Israelis said, the Egyptians began firing artillery into the Israeli positions south of Ismailia.

Israeli guns then returned this fire until another cease-fire was arranged, the officials said.

Senators Restore Fund To Battle Lamprey In Lakes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday restored a $100,000 cut by the House of Representatives in the Great Lakes Lamprey Eel Control Program.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said "chances are good" the action will be approved by the Senate and a Senate House conference committee.

The House conference committee.

The House had reduced the Great Lakes Fisheries Commission's budget from $1,057,000 to $957,000.

Griffin, who called the lamprey control program "largely responsible for the re-emergence of high value fish in the Great Lakes," said the action to restore the cut followed a concerted effort by Great Lakes senators and representatives.

Four In Merit Semifinals

Four Escanaba Area Public High School students are among more than 14,000 semifinalists in the National Merit Scholarship Program, it is announced today.

They represent the most intellectually able high school seniors throughout the nation, and they have advanced to the second step in the 1967-68 competition for about 2,900 Merit Scholarships, valued at more than $8 million.

The four from Escanaba are Mary Bisbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bisbee of 916 5th Ave. So.; George Bonetel, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bonetel, 130 1st Ave. S.; Robert Mosenfelder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mosenfelder of 1300 8th Ave. S.; and John Walbridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Walbridge of 215 S. 6th St.

Others in the Upper Peninsula are Alan G. Johnson of Iron River High School; Robert A. Narotzky, Ishpeming High School; and Susan J. Hilton, Marquette High School.

The students were among the highest scorers in their state on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, given last Feb. in 17,600 schools. The semifinalists constitute less than one percent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the U.S.

Semifinalists must advance to finalist standing to be considered for Merit Scholarships, since all winners will be selected from the finalist group. Semi-finalists become finalists by receiving the endorsement of their schools, taking a second examination, and submitting information about their achievements and interests.

Every semifinalist who becomes a finalist will be considered for one of about 2,400 four-year Merit Scholarships financed by some 400 corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, other organizations, and individuals, and by NMSC itself. In addition, about 500 one-time National Merit $1000

Scholarship will be awarded for the first time in 1968.

Winners of four-year Merit Scholarship may receive up to $1,500 a year for four college years, depending on their individual need. Winners of the National Merit $1000 Scholarships will receive one-time grants of $1,000 upon enrollment in college.

Legion Honors Two Area Posts

August Mattson American Legion Post at Gladstone and the Escanaba River Post have been recognized by the Legion's 11th District for exceeding all-time membership high points last year.

Plaques honoring the achievements were presented by George Beaudoin, Stephenson, Past 11th district commander, to the two posts at the fall 11th District meeting Sunday at Bark River.

About 125 Legionnaires and Auxiliary members representing 17 of 22 posts in the Upper Peninsula's 11th District attended the session hosted by the Bark River Post. Frank Adams is commander of the Bark River post and welcomed delegates.

Committee reports presented included the Poppy Report by Oral LaCombe, Sault Ste. Marie; Un-Americanism by Ernest Hilunen, Newberry; Finance Audit by Irving Hafeman, Powers; Marksmanship by Ray Meyer, Bark River.

Frank Sperti of Battle Creek, department membership chairman, assisted by Lester Lauscher, Hermansville, 5th zone commander, explained the membership program for the year. James McGill, Birmingham, discussed Institute Extension programs available through national headquarters. Richard Morrison, Escanaba, U.P. field service officer, discussed the work of service officers, and Ralph Olson, Escanaba, district service officer, presented department citations to post service officers at the meeting.

The Ira McLaughlin Post, Sault Ste. Marie, invited the Legion to hold the spring meeting at the Sault. The 11th District endorsed the proposal.

Guests introduced included Ed Clement, L'Anse, 12th district committeeman; Walt Johnson, Kingsford, 12th district sergeant at arms; Harold Stucker, past lower 11th district department vice commander; Dwight Cochrane, Rapid River, and Bill Anderson, Sault Ste. Marie, Upper Michigan commander.

Norman Oulette, 11th district committeeman from Munising, presided over the meeting.

Bark River Auxiliary members served a smorgasbord lunch.

House Defeats Spending Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee defeated today a Republican proposal seeking to force President Johnson to cut federal spending by $5 billion or more this year.

The proposal would have limited spending during the current fiscal year of $131.5 billion, exclusive of any additional military expenses.

The GOP leadership tried to tie the proposal to a routine temporary money measure financing government agencies for the month of October. It was rejected by a vote of 28 to 21.

Ways and Means Committee members have balked at the President's request for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge unless there is a deep cut in spending. The Bow proposal, which would not have affected defense spending, would have forced budget reductions and eased the way for a tax bill.

Race Mix Foe, Boston Winner

BOSTON (AP) — Mrs. Louise Day Hicks, an avowed foe of school desegregation programs, topped a 10-candidate field Tuesday in winning one of the two places for mayor on the Nov. 7 ballot.

The three-term school committeewoman led by a margin of more than 4-3 over Secretary of State Kevin H. White, who will oppose her in the nonpartisan final election.

U. S. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., immediately promised to wage "a strong campaign" for White.

Kennedy did not mention Mrs. Hicks by name, but said only one candidate of the two selected could carry out the mandate from a "large majority" of the voters for "progress and understanding in meeting the problems of our city."

Mrs. Hicks received an unofficial total of 43,572 votes in the city's 275 precincts compared to 30,820 for White. More than 156,000 of the city's 278,562 voters went to the polls.

The matronly 46-year-old grandmother showed well in the city's white working class sections, but—as predicted—ran behind the other candidates in the heavily Negro and in upper class areas.

A practicing lawyer, she is completing her third term on the Boston School Committee, and has been the center of racial controversy for her opposition to efforts to achieve racial balance in the city's schools.

She opposed any change in the city's policy of having students attend their neighborhood schools, which, civil rights leaders claim, keeps Negro children in dilapidated schools that offer inferior instruction.

Canada Vows Peace Effort

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Canada declared today that a halt in the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam must be given top priority in efforts to de-escalate the Vietnam war and open the door to peace talks.

In a policy address before the 122-nation General Assembly, Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin said: "It seems clear that all attempts to bring about talks between the two sides are doomed to failure unless the bombing is stopped."

He added, however, that a bombing halt is "only one side of a military equation" and said, if there is to be success, peace efforts cannot proceed "as if the other side did not exist." The proposed bombing halt, he said, is only a starting point in the process of ending the conflict.

"There is no hope for progress toward a peaceful settlement," he said, "in appeals or proposals which place the total burden of responsibility on only one side. That sort of approach is relevant only in circumstances of military victory and defeat."

Martin pledged that Canada would continue its efforts as a member of the International Control Commission to act along with the other members—India and Poland—to lead the parties to the Vietnam conflict to the conference table.

Truck Kills Tot

MUSKEGON (AP) — Renee L. Duff, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Duff, was killed Tuesday when she was run over by a mail truck in front of her Norton Township home. Mediators Try For ABC Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — A spokesman for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service says it has contacted the American Broadcasting Co. and the union of its striking technicians in an effort to get negotiations going again.

After this statement Tuesday, ABC and the striking union, the AFL-CIO National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians (NABET), said they knew of no such contacts.

The National Broadcasting Co., which also is involved in a contract dispute with NABET but has not been struck, said it had been reached and was prepared to resume negotiations.

The AFL-CIO American Federation of Television and Radio Artists (AFTRA), which represents performers and announcers, pledged full legal and financial support for members who refused to cross picket lines of the 1,300 technicians who struck the ABC television and radio networks late last Friday.

Donald F. Conway, executive secretary of AFTRA, said the pledge was in response to what he called ABC threats of legal action for breach of contract.

DUS Drive Is Story Of Heart

It's going to take years to tell the story of Delta United Services to the people of Delta County and get their full acceptance of its importance. DUS President Thomas Straebel told the Escanaba Rotary Club

Tuesday at its luncheon meeting in the House of Ludington. Meanwhile, he said DUS is launching its third annual drive for funds this week to finance 11 agencies that serve the youth, the servicemen, the ill needing blood transfusions, the mentally disturbed, the retarded, the destitute and others in trouble in Delta County. DUS is seeking $85,000 in its drive this week and next week to help these agencies.

They are Bay Cliff Health Camp, the Red Cross Blood Bank, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Retarded Children, Salvation Army, Delta Family Services, U. P. Child Guidance Clinic, United Service Organizations (USO) and Michigan Children's Aid Society.

"Nearly all the money collected in this drive stays in Delta County to help us all," said Straebel. "We're encouraging employers to urge the use of payroll deduction for DUS giving. It means a lot to DUS and it puts your money where it will do the most good in a lot of places in Delta County."

Episcopal Meet Straddles War

SEATTLE (AP) — Episcopal representatives today were on the fence about the Vietnam war.

"Neither dove nor hawk," one delegate put it.

They argued about it half the night, on the eve of the close of their 11-day governing convention, and wound up with a down-the-middle resolution saying they could "not agree among ourselves."

"Dedicated persons, including

Christians, differ about the war in Vietnam, about the wisdom and morality of our nation's involvement," they said.

There also were differences put forward in reaching that conclusion in the House of Deputies, the lay-clergy branch of the two-house legislature for 3.5 million Episcopalians.

The result, as John W. Church, of Hinsdale, Ill., described it, was neither "yea" nor "nay."

The House of Bishops still had to decide whether to go along with the deputies in the matter, before the convention closes today.

In their three-hour night session, the deputies overwhelmingly turned down a statement that would have called for a halt to the American bombing of North Vietnam and de-escalation.

They just as firmly rejected proposals giving blanket support to U.S. policy and voicing full confidence in the President and his advisors.

Tuesday Bishop James A. Pike abandoned his demand for a heresy trial after fellow bishops established safeguards against such prosecutions.

They also provided for "due process," assuring the right of self-defense, in any future action to censure a bishop—a right Bishop Pike claims he didn't have when censured by the bishops last fall for challenging some church doctrine.

"I feel completely vindicated," he said.

Antiriot Law No Help: Kelley

LANSING (AP) — An antiriot law is neither necessary in Michigan nor would it be helpful, Attorney Gen. Frank Kelley today told a special Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Kelley told the committee, investigating crime in general including riot-connected criminal acts, that there already are some 50 laws on the books relating to riots.

These laws "cover almost every conceivable activity relating to riots ranging from the burning of a store to placing explosives with the intent to destroy, to larceny from a building," Kelley said.

"Generally, I believe them to be sufficient and I do not feel that the riots in Detroit could have been prevented in any measure by an antiriot law," he added.

Kelley's testimony, accompanied by that of other top state and local law enforcement officers, highlighted the second of several hearings planned by the committee, created last April and expanded following the July riots in Detroit and several other state cities.

With RAY CRANDALL

The Upper Peninsula is blessed with some outstanding quarterbacks this fall and one of the best is Rich Salani of the undefeated Hancock Bulldogs. . . . Salani scored all three touchdowns as his team knocked Crystal Falls out of the unbeaten ranks, 20-7. . . . The touchdowns came on long distance jaunts covering 59, 64 and 62 yards as Hancock fashioned its third straight victory of the season. . . . He gained 201 yards in 13 carries.

Iron Mountain's Rudy Steiner is another standout quarterback this season. . . . The 6 foot 1 inch, 210 pound senior had the best day of his prep career in the 39-0 triumph over Stambaugh in a Menominee Range Conference tilt. . . . Steiner accounted for all six Iron Mountain touchdowns through the air, connecting twice each to Al and Doug Schupp and once with Jere Grams and Phil Johnson. . . . He completed 19 of 27 passes for 253 yards and added 54 in nine carries.

Bob Briceo, Holy Name's contribution to the Northern Michigan University football team, gained 45 yards in six trips as the Wildcats trimmed Bemidji, 33-8. . . . Briceo is a 5 foot 11 inch, 175 pound freshman halfback.

Steve Oman, nailing down a starting assignment with Illinois as a sophomore, played the entire game against Florida Saturday. . . . In spite of the 14-0 setback, Illini coaches had praise for the performance of the soph. . . . Oman is a 6 foot, 200 pound offensive guard.

Tom Domres, ex-Gladstone star, was the outstanding defensive player on the field for the Wisconsin Badgers who dropped their season opener to Washington, 17-0. . . . The senior tackle earned a Black Helmet award for his six solo tackles and 14 assists. . . . Winners of Black Helmets will wear them in practice and games as a badge of defensive distinction.

Former Upper Peninsula athletes have turned in top performances for Michigan Tech in two losing efforts this season. . . . Paul Dougovito of Stephenson has gained 21 yards in seven carries. Dane Dominici of Iron River has caught five passes for 52 yards and Jerry Lajeunesse of Houghton has punted 15 times for a 37.9 average.

First 300 bowling game in the Upper Peninsula this season was turned in by Wilbert Kananen of Calumet at Miller's Lanes in Laurium. . . . The lefthander was using a newly drilled ball only four games old when he bowled the perfect game.

Dave Solda, Norway's speedy halfback, scored three touchdowns and gained 170 yards in 25 carries as the Knights defeated Gwinn, 32-19, in Land O'Lakes Conference action. . . . Norway and Crystal Falls are tied for the conference lead with 2-0 records.

Menominee, Holy Name's next football foe, keeps improving with every game. . . . The Maroons turned in their most impressive performance of the season with a 27-7 decision over Rhineland. . . . Pat Miller and Pat Collins each tallied two touchdowns as Menominee netted 361 yards rushing and passing against the Hodags.

DeTour remained in the exclusive ranks of unbeaten U.P. grid teams by belting Soo Loretto, 31-7. . . . Sophomore quarterback Martin Ledy threw for three touchdowns and senior fullback Gerard Malkowski ran for two more to lead the Red Raiders to their fourth straight victory of the season.

Esky Ranked Top Team In U.P. Ballot

A 47-0 victory over previously undefeated Kingsford vaulted Escanaba into first place in the Upper Peninsula Sports-writers Association football poll this week.

The defense-minded Eskymos jumped over Negaunee into the top spot. The Miners, matching Escanaba's 4-0 record, had led the poll for the first two weeks.

The Eskymos drew six first place votes and 104 points. Negaunee had three first place ballots and 99 points. Iron Mountain moved up a notch into the third place spot occupied by Escanaba last week with 91 points and two first place votes.

Kingsford, ranked No. 2 last week, fell to the No. 8 spot after the shocking setback to Escanaba.

Menominee climbed from 10th last week to sixth this week while Gladstone and Ontonagon moved into the top 10 list.

The third weekly poll, with first place votes in parentheses:

Team	Pts.
Escanaba (6)	104

Others receiving votes: Ishpeming and Ironwood, tie, Stambaugh, L'Anse.

Mack The Knife Gets Top Honor

By The Associated Press

Duffy Daugherty thought he was the quickest runner he'd seen in a long time. The trouble was Duffy's players had trouble seeing him at all.

He's Warren "Mack the Knife" McVea of Houston, this week's Associated Press Back of the Week.

The 5-foot-10, 180-pound senior from San Antonio, Tex., was named today as a result of his performance—155 yards and one touchdown on 14 carries—in Houston's 37-7 upset of Michigan State last Saturday.

"You had to be close to him to appreciate some of his faking," Daugherty said.

Some Michigan State defenders may have been close to McVea, but it is doubtful they appreciated him very much as he raced 50 yards for a second period touchdown to put Houston ahead to stay, 10-7.

McVea, who runs the 100 in 9.5, also reeled off jaunts of 48, 33 and 17 yards.

McVea barely edged Florida State quarterback Kim Hammond for Back of the Week.

The 6-1 senior from Melbourne, Fla., completed 23 of 40 passes for 280 yards and three touchdowns in Florida State's stunning 37-37 tie with Alabama. He also ran 11 times for 45 yards.

And he did all of this in the role of a substitute. Hammond started in place of Gary Pajic, who was troubled by a sore arm.

Hammond's three TD passes matched the number Alabama yielded all last season. The 37 points also matched the total given up by the Crimson Tide in 1966.

Spartan Drop Is No Surprise

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty said he wasn't surprised when Tuesday's Associated Press poll showed his Spartans out of the top 10 following the 37-7 loss to Houston.

Michigan State was rated third in preseason polls this year.

"We certainly don't deserve to be in the top 10 after our performance last Saturday," Daugherty said.

Asked if he thought his Big Ten defending champion Spartans, who finished No. 2 in the nation last year, would work their way back into the ratings before the season ended, he said:

"I never make predictions about it. We're certainly going to try."

Houston replaced MSU at the No. 3 spot in this week's AP poll.

Daugherty put his first-string offensive unit to work in practice Tuesday, running plays against a simulated Southern California defense. Michigan State plays No. 2-ranked Southern Cal at East Lansing Saturday.

Still doubtful MSU starters are defenseless Jess Phillips and George Chatlos. Both are limping—Phillips with an injured leg and Chatlos with a sore ankle.

Daugherty said he would decide later in the week whether to play the two against the Trojans.

Northern Back Lonnie Holton Scoring Leader

By The Associated Press

Lonnie Holton and the Northern Michigan Wildcats continued to dominate the Michigan college football statistics.

Northern rumbled past Bemidji, Minn., 33-3 Saturday for its third straight football victory. Holton contributed three touchdowns in the rout and ran his total for the fall to five for a total of 30 points.

Hugh Davidson of Northwood has three touchdowns and tackled a man for a safety and a total of 20 points.

Gary Frens of Hope, with two touchdowns and two extra points, stands third in individual scoring. Ten others are tied at 12.

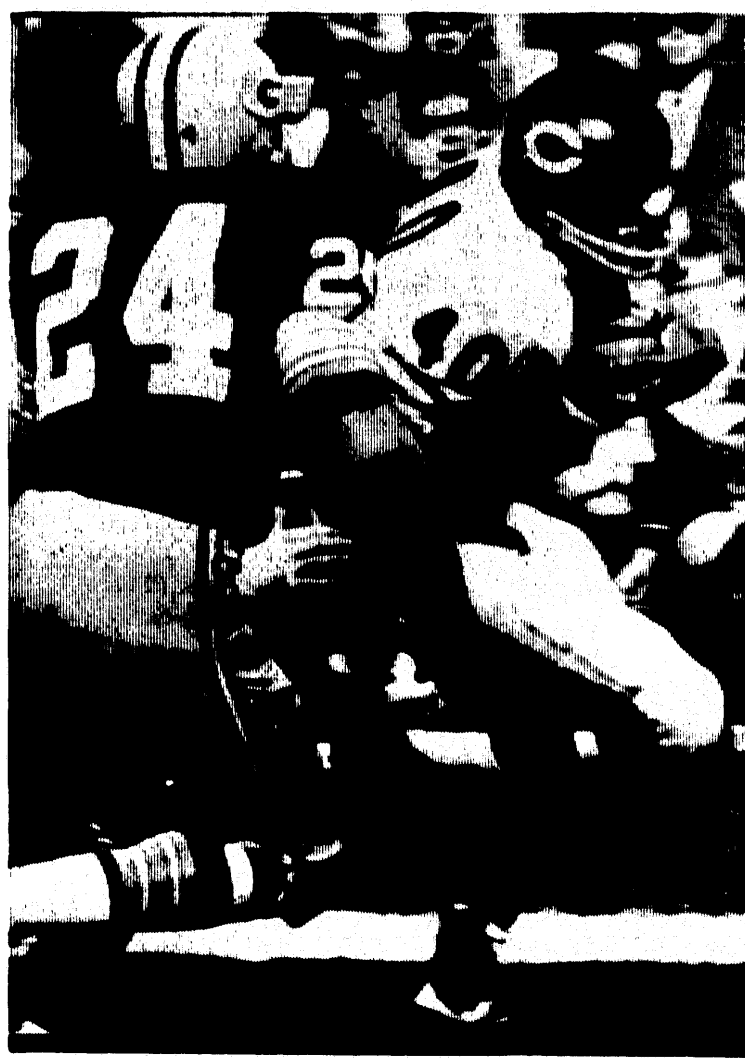

San Francisco Total Offense Leader In NFL

NEW YORK (AP)—A net gain of 180 yards rushing in their 38-7 victory over Atlanta has helped the San Francisco 49ers take first place in total offense in the National Football League, the weekly statistics disclosed Tuesday.

The 49ers have averaged 210 yards rushing and 228.5 yards passing for an over-all average of 438.5 yards. They have played two games.

Baltimore, the leader a week ago, dropped to second place with a 426.5 average followed by Dallas with 392.0 and Washington, 378.5.

The Pittsburgh Steelers maintained their lead in total defense with an average yield of 189 yards. The Green Bay Packers are next with 196.

Jim Nance Tops AFL Runners

NEW YORK (AP)—Boston's City's Mike Garrett. The little bull-dozer Jim Nance has solidified his lead as the top ground gainer in the American Football League with his big afternoon against the Buffalo Bills.

The 6-foot-1, 240-pound fullback rolled up 185 yards on 34 carries against the Bills last Sunday and raised his rushing yardage to 367 yards in four games. The AFL statistics were released Tuesday.

Nance, the champion last year with an AFL record of 1,456 yards, may get a battle this year, however, from Kansas City's Mike Garrett.

Garrett, second with 801 last year, has 211 yards in just two games for second place.

Darley Lamonia of Oakland and Len Dawson of Kansas City maintained their 1-2 ratings among the passers as New York's Joe Namath shot up from sixth to third place.

Lamonia has clicked on 23 of 39 attempts for 59 per cent, 369 yards, and four touchdowns with one interception. Dawson has hit on 24 of 32 for 75 per cent, 315 yards, and three touchdowns with one interception.

Balance Does It, Milt Plum Claims

DETROIT (AP)—According to Milt Plum, it's balance that does it.

"We don't want to be known as a running team and we don't want to be a passing team. We want balance," said the Detroit Lions quarterback.

But despite Plum's preference, the Lions are the best rushing team in the National Football League. The Lions have rolled up 430 yards in two games.

After a 17-17 tie against the world champion Green Bay Packers, Detroit whipped the Cleveland Browns 31-14. After a slow start against Cleveland, Plum directed a masterful game, hitting on 16 of 27 passes for 223 yards and a touchdown. He didn't have a single interception.

Meanwhile, the Lions rolled to 238 yards on the ground, 115 of them by Tommy Watkins.

Mel Farr, the rookie sensation, stands second in the NFL with 170 yards in two games.

Plum gives much of the credit to the offensive line. "With good blocking," he said, "you can make everything work."

"I think we're pretty well balanced. We want to control the ball with balance."

"Everybody's hustling. Everybody's got it instilled in their minds that we can win a lot of ball games," he said.

"But," Plum said, "you've got to have a ground game. That's what makes the passing work."

He said he hopes to be able to continue ball control against St. Louis this weekend. "They are a different team entirely," he said. "They blitz a lot more and the linemen jump in and out. That means our linemen have to read more and quicker."

The Lions were a poor team the past two years and Plum took a lot of abuse from fans. He hurt a knee last year and missed most of the season, but came back this year and beat his replacement, Karl Sweetan, out of the starting job.

Always considered a great technician, Plum directed the powerful Lions like a bulldozer Sunday. He gives most of the credit for improvement to Coach Joe Schmidt, a former Lion linebacker hired last winter.

"Last year we had four victories," Plum explained. "Everybody knew we were better than that. Everybody had respect for Joe this year. We had a good training camp."

"We got ready for the regular season and worked at things gradually. We didn't get upset when we lost to Denver. We just kept working and we're still improving," he said.

The Lions looked bad in their opening exhibition game when they became the first NFL team to lose to an American Football League team at Denver.

"It's a long way from Denver to here," Milt grinned.

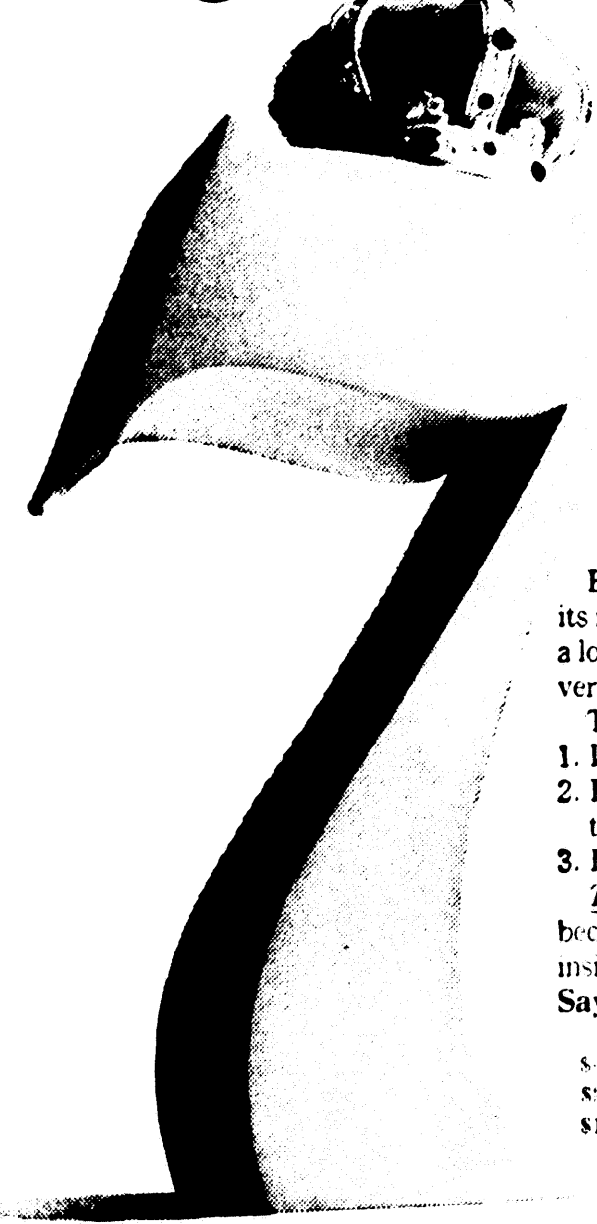

Florida State Quarterback Is College Leader

NEW YORK (AP)—Kim Hammond, the Florida State quarterback who rolled up an astonishing 325 yards passing and rushing against Alabama's usually air-tight defenses, is pacing the nation's major colleges in passing and total offense.

The 6-foot-1 senior from Melbourne, Fla., stunned the formidable Alabama football team by completing 23 of 40 passes for 280 yards in leading FSU to a 37-37 tie Saturday night.

Hammond leads the passers with 38 of 69 for 551, 407 yards, and five touchdowns.

Status Symbol

Even a bottle of whiskey has to earn its reputation. So instead of spending a lot of time talking quality, we try very hard to do something about it.

That effort pays off for you three ways.

1. In the good taste of the whiskey.
2. In taste that never varies. Bottle to bottle. Year to year.
3. In quality you can be proud to serve.

The moral is: If the number on the bottle becomes a status symbol . . . the whiskey inside is usually responsible.

Detroit Stays Alive By Nipping Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — Mickey Lolich's second straight shutout has breathed a little life into the desperate Detroit Tigers, who are 1 1/2 games back with only four to go.

Lolich had to overcome some fielding lapses by his jittery mates and himself Tuesday night before he got away with a 1-0 victory over the New York Yankees in another "must" game for the Tigers.

The victory leaves the Tigers in fourth, while Minnesota leads the league after defeating California, 7-3. Detroit trails both Boston and Chicago by a half-game. The Red Sox were beaten by Cleveland, 6-3, and the White Sox were rained out at Kansas City.

Rookie Makes Error

Rookie catcher Jim Price let a high foul drop within catching range in the sixth after Bill Freehan had been thrown out of a ball game for the first time in his life.

Dick McAuliffe fumbled a perfect double play ball in the ninth. Although McAuliffe got the batter, Mickey Mantle, the failure to get the double play put Jerry Kenney on second with the potential tying run and only one out.

Lolich also was guilty of mistakes. He threw the ball past first base for a two-base error on Roy White in the seventh and wild-pitched men to second and third in the sixth.

"I can say one thing," said Manager Mayo Smith in the clubhouse. "We sure scored a lot of runs in this play." The Tigers managed to split the series by scoring only one run.

"We've still got to win four-for-four," said Smith.

"We'll be glad to get home because we play better there. It will be Joe Spina Thursday, Earl Wilson Friday and Lolich again Saturday in the series with California. That's as far as I can go.

"No, I don't think we're tight. We're just not hitting. We faced pretty good pitching here.

"What we've got to do is take care of our own knitting and win. We can hope the others will lose but we cannot do anything about it."

The Tigers, idle today, were able to manage a few grins after the victory but Freehan still was bitter about being tossed out. Horace Clarke had just stolen second on a pitch to Kenney when Freehan started arguing with plate umpire Hank Soar and was given the heave-ho after he threw his mask.

Freehan Throws Mask

"It was a foul tip," said Freehan. "I knew it was foul but I threw the ball and he was safe. I said I should have dropped it and then he would have to go back to first. Then I looked at the scoreboard and the count was two balls and no strikes.

"I said to Hank, 'that was a foul ball.' He said 'no it wasn't.' I threw the mask all right. And he didn't wait a second.

"It was the first time I've ever been thrown out in amateur ball, professional or anywhere. You'd think they would take the situation—pennant race and all—into consideration before they throw you out for the first time and put a big burden on a young guy (Price) on a play you knew the guy blew.

"There never will be any question in my mind about it being a foul ball."

It was right after this incident that Price let the foul ball drop and Lolich uncorked his wild pitch. But the Yanks left men on second and third when Mantle struck out but had to be thrown out when Price dropped the third strike.

Had To Win

"I'm just glad we won it," said Freehan. "I saw the foul drop and I was praying my head off."

Lolich said he wouldn't have been surprised if Smith had taken him out in the sixth or seventh after his error.

"This was one we just had to win," he said. "And one run didn't look very big."

Lolich, who lost 10 in a row earlier and now has won eight of his last nine, pitched to Mantle with Kenney on first in the ninth.

"He's one guy you wish wasn't up," said Lolich. "To me he's a 370 hitter. I try to fool him. He went for a curve ball."

Mantle grounded out on the ball that should have been a double play. Lolich then got Joe Pepitone and White on fly balls to end it with a four-hitter.

Lolich and Mel Stottlemyre were locked in a scoreless duel through the first five innings with the game's only hit a single by New York's Horace Clarke in the first.

Then, Lennie Green sliced a double to left, opening the sixth. He moved to third on Dick McAuliffe's single up the middle.

When Joe Pepitone's throw came through to the plate, McAuliffe took second. Al Kaline was purposely walked, loading the bases with none out.

Ed Mathews sent a long fly to Steve Whitaker in left field and Green raced home with the game's only run.

Killebrew Hammers Pair Of Homers As Twins Win

By The Associated Press

Just about everybody has a finger in the American League pennant pie, including Mother Nature, but Harmon Killebrew showed his whole fist into it.

Killebrew walloped a pair of tape measure home runs Tuesday helping Minnesota whip California 7-3.

The victory moved the Twins one full game ahead of both Boston and Chicago. The Red Sox lost 6-3 to Cleveland and the White Sox bowed to the elements when their game at Kansas City was postponed by rain.

The rainout left the Sox in second place, one percentage point ahead of Boston but Chicago must play a doubleheader tonight. Fourth-place Detroit, still alive, stayed 1 1/2 games off the pace by whipping New York 1-0.

Washington trimmed Baltimore 4-1 in Tuesday's other AL game.

In the National League, Chicago edged St. Louis 8-7, Atlanta nipped Cincinnati 4-3, Houston topped Philadelphia 3-2, Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 3-1 and San Francisco slugged New York 8-3.

Killebrew hammered a 435-foot shot following Cesar Tovar's sixth inning single as the Twins busted loose for four runs, wiping out a 3-2 California lead.

An inning later, Killebrew's 43rd of the season went into orbit. Bob Allison also homered for Minnesota.

"I didn't know if the first one was going out," said Killebrew. "It was pretty high and it was hit to the longest part of the park."

Cal Ermer, Minnesota's rookie manager, was relieved by the victory. "I don't know if Harmon ever hit a more important homer for us than that first one he hit today. That was quite a shot."

Jim Kaat pitched a five-hitter and struck out 13 for his seventh victory this month. It ran his season's record to 16-13.

Boston meanwhile, was victimized by light-hitting Chico Salmon, who drove in three runs with a homer and a double. Salmon started the Indians off by doubling home a run and then scoring another in the second inning. Four innings later, he lofted his second homer of the year with a man on base.

Chuck Hinton also homered and Luis Tiant went the distance for Cleveland despite Carl Yastrzemski's 43rd homer, which accounted for all three Red Sox runs.

"It doesn't look good," admitted Boston Manager Dick Williams. "We've battled back before and we can battle back again, but now we need a little help from somebody else against Chicago."

The Red Sox trail both Minnesota and Chicago by one game in the loss column. They play the Twins the last two games of the season but can not make up the ground against the White Sox unless either Kansas City or Washington beats Chicago at least once.

Rain beat the White Sox Tuesday, forcing them into a doubleheader against Kansas City tonight. No team likes to play two games in one day at this stage.

The White Sox will pitch Gary Peters, 16-9, and Joel Horlen, 19-6, against Chuck Dobson, 9-9, and Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 12-16, for the A's.

Detroit stayed alive on Mickey Lolich's four-hitter, against the Yankees. Ed Mathews' sixth inning sacrifice fly drove in the game's only run against loser Mel Stottlemyre, 14-15, who allowed only three hits.

Three Washington pitchers—Buster Natsum, Joe Coleman and Darold Knowles—limited Baltimore to four hits as the Senators trimmed the Orioles.

The pennant race resumes today with Cleveland at Boston and California at Minnesota for day games and Chicago in Kansas City for a two-night doubleheader. The Tigers have the day off.

Eskymo Runners Notch Victory

Escanaba defeated Marinette 19 to 41, in a dual cross country meet here Tuesday.

Joe Muchlhaus led the Eskymos to victory in 11 minutes 27.5 seconds. Others on the winning team were Jerry Duclaine, second; Roger McMillan, fourth; Rick Anderson, fifth, and Mike Beck, seventh.

Seven Schools To Compete In Cross Country

GLADSTONE—Seven teams will compete in an invitational cross country run at the Gladstone Golf Club course Thursday, starting at 4.

Entered are Holy Name, Gladstone, Rapid River, Eben, Menominee, Painesdale and Perkins.

Former Michigan State varsity swimmer Pete Williams won the 400-meter individual medley in 4:50.8 at the 1967 National AAU outdoor championships.

Ump Causes Hot Hassle

By The Associated Press

Baseball and baseball managers take some funny business, and now Rod Reed has seen a little of both.

Reed, a former pro, eager making his pitch for a baseball job with the Atlanta Braves, inadvertently touched off one of the season's zaniest ruckuses Tuesday night at Cincinnati.

The Braves edged the Reds 4-3 for Reed's second victory in the majors. But both managers played the game under protest and neither one was around for the finish, because an umpire dared to change his mind.

Umpire Frank Dezelan signaled a foul tip on a pitch to Reed in the Braves' eighth, then reversed himself and called it a ball. After a bas-at home plate, Reds' skipper Dave Bristol and Atlanta's Billy Hitchcock were ejected, along with Cincinnati second baseman Tommy Helms.

Both managers then announced they were completing the game under protest—a happening perhaps unprecedented in baseball history.

In other National League action, San Francisco drubbed the New York Mets 8-3, Los Angeles trimmed Pittsburgh 3-1, Houston edged Philadelphia 3-2 and the Chicago Cubs edged St. Louis 8-7.

The fireworks at Cincinnati started after Hank Aaron's three-run homer hot the Braves into a 3-1 lead in the sixth inning. Reed, who had batted the Reds except for a fifth inning homer by pitcher Milt Pappas, took a pitch from reliever Don Nottebart.

Dezelan gave the foul tip sign, then changed his call, bringing Hitchcock and Bristol to the plate on the run.

"I did not question the call," Hitchcock said. "I just asked what it was and I walked away. Then Bristol came back to the plate and I went back and asked what he wanted to know."

"I wasn't questioning whether it was a ball or a foul tip," said Bristol. "I wanted to know why Dezelan gave the foul tip sign, then decided it was a ball."

"I did give it, but I changed my mind," said Dezelan, explaining he first thought the pitch ticked Reed's bat, but decided the ball had hit the glove of catcher John Bench instead.

"A manager cannot protest balls and strikes," the umpire added.

Bristol was the first to get the thumb, Hitchcock claimed he then was told by Dezelan, "If he (Bristol) goes, you've got to go too."

Dave Nicholson delivered the Braves' fourth run with a sacrifice fly in the ninth before pinch hitter John Edwards' two-run homer off reliever Cecil Upshaw closed the gap.

The victory was the first of the season for Reed, who played for the Detroit Pistons in the National Basketball Association before giving up the court game. He pitched for the Braves' Richmond farm club until his recall early this month.

Willie Mays slammed a pair of homers, driving in three runs. Willie McCovey unloaded a 450-foot, three-run blast and Jim Hart hit a solo homer as the Giants pounded the Mets.

The Dodgers' Don Drysdale registered his 190th career victory with relief help from Ron Perrano, matching the club record set by Dazzy Vance. Al Ferrara's two-run homer in the first inning was the big blow for Los Angeles.

Chuck Harrison's leadoff homer in the ninth lifted the Astros past the Phillies for their third straight victory.

The Cubs caught St. Louis in the ninth. Ron Santo homered to tie the score, Al Spangler doubled and Randy Hundley knocked in the winner with a two-out single. Lou Brock, who socked two homers for the NL champions, sent them ahead 7-6 with a two-run shot in the top of the ninth.

Three Injured In Two Mishaps, Police Report

Three persons were injured in two separate traffic accidents investigated by State Police Tuesday.

Milton Erickson, 30, of Rte. 1, Ensign, remained in St. Francis Hospital this morning with lacerations suffered when his car struck the railing of the Soo Line railroad overpass on U. S. 2 east of Rapid River. Hospital officials said he was in good condition.

Erickson told police he was eastbound on U. S. 2 when another car came across the centerline and forced him into the railing. He was not ticketed.

Darlene Walker, 17, of Beaver Dam, Wis., was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions, after she lost control of her car on U. S. 2 and 41 about three quarters of a mile west of the Dells Supper Club. State Police said the car, which was towing a stock car, ran off the north side of the road and struck a tree.

Miss Walker and Wayne Kaiser, 19, of Cooks, suffered minor injuries in the accident, officers said.

Elegeert Heads City DUS Drive

Thomas S. Elegeert, Jr., 709 Michigan Ave., is chairman of the Delta United Service Drive in Gladstone.

An employee of Mead Paper Co., Elegeert assisted in three United Service campaigns before accepting the chairmanship of the drive this year.

Sub-chairmen for the local drive are Ray Norton, and Maurice Buchmiller, commercial; LeRoy Hamilton, and Elegeert, industrial; Wallace Cameron, educational, and Rev. Reuben Carlson, residential.

The local drive got underway Monday and Elegeert says he hopes to have it completed within three weeks. The residential canvas will be made through a mailing rather than house-to-house solicitation, he said.

Famed Tennis Coach Is Dead

DETROIT (AP)—Services for Jerry Hoxie, 65, who formed with his wife, Jean, what came to be one of the finest tennis coaching programs in the nation, will be held Friday in Detroit.

Hoxie died Monday night in a Detroit hospital. He had been in a coma for more than a month.

The Hoxie husband-and-wife coaching combination, based at the suburban Hamtramck Recreation Department, developed more than 200 champion players and guided Hamtramck High School to 16 Class A State tennis championships.

Drunk Driver Pays $50 Fine

Euclid J. Gervais, 59, of 420 S. 18th St., Escanaba, paid a fine of $50 and court costs of $5.60 after he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving when arraigned Tuesday before Justice Edward Goldsworthy of Gladstone.

State Police said Gervais was arrested about 11:15 p.m. Monday in Escanaba. Conviction of drunk driving also brings automatic suspension of driver's license.

Briefly Told

Rodney R. Willis, 109 4th Ave., was ticketed by Gladstone Police Tuesday for no registration plates.

State Police issued traffic summonses Tuesday to Lorraine J. Miller, Rte. 1, Gladstone, no proof of insurance, and Leroy N. Willis, 1400 N. 15th St., Gladstone, speeding.

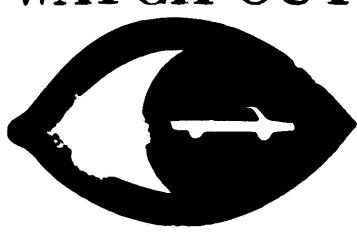

The Charity Circle of the First Lutheran Church of Gladstone will meet at the home of Mrs. Harold Ebbesen, 401 Minnesota Ave., Gladstone at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Social

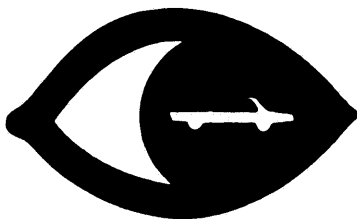

Joint Meeting
A joint dinner meeting of the Escanaba and Gladstone B. of R. T. Auxiliaries will be held at the August Mattson Post Legion Hall Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. A buffet dinner will be served and the business meeting will follow.

Ask Tax Break For Viet Vets

LANSING (AP) — A Democratic state senator has asked Gov. George Romney to include on the special fall legislative session agenda legislation allowing property tax exemptions for disabled Vietnam war veterans.

Sen. John McCauley of Wyandotte said that Michigan's Veterans Homestead Tax Exemption Act covers disabled veterans of all previous wars and their widows, but not Vietnam veterans.

"This is a serious oversight and should be corrected immediately," said McCauley, a veteran of World War II. "The present Homestead Tax Exemption Act unfairly discriminates against wounded veterans of the Vietnam war."

McCauley made the request in a letter to Romney, who is on a tour of several of the nation's troubled urban areas, and said he has already asked that a bill be drafted.

"We are proceeding on the assumption that Gov. Romney will step up to his responsibility as a national leader deeply interested in our involvement in Vietnam and will put on the agenda this question of the men

Blue Shield Asks OK To Broaden Health Coverage

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Officials of Blue Shield, the medical care insurance program, plan to seek state approval for greatly expanded coverage that would pay for prescriptions and doctor house calls.

John C. McCabe, Blue Shield president, revealed the plan at the annual meeting of Medical Service Corp. in Grand Rapids.

He said if the plan is approved by State Insurance Commissioner David J. Dykehouse it would be offered to subscribers in 1968.

Group subscribers would pay from 2 to 15 per cent more for the expanded coverage.

Under the plan, McCabe said there would be no fixed fees for doctors and payments would not depend on the subscriber's income.

disabled in fighting there," the senator said.

Romney, who is authorized under the State Constitution to call a special session and name the topics to be considered, has said he will call the Legislature back into session on Oct. 10.

Draft Influence Case Is Closed

WASHINGTON (AP) — "As far as we're concerned the case is closed," Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the nation's draft director, was quoted as saying Tuesday about the Michigan draft board controversy.

The controversy was over alleged political influence in obtaining draft deferments for four young men at the Coldwater, Mich., draft board, whose chairman resigned in protest.

Michigan's Selective Service director, Col. Arthur Holmes of East Lansing, denied any undue pressure was exerted by anybody in getting the deferments.

Col. Holmes gave Gen. Hershey his report on the case. Last week Hershey said he contemplated no action at least for now.

A spokesman told a newsman today Hershey told him the case was closed "as far as we're concerned."

Kalamazoo Doctor Volunteers For Vietnam Service

SAIGON (AP) — Dr. Adrian J. Neerken of the Bronson Medical Center in Kalamazoo is one of eight American doctors to volunteer services for 60 days in South Vietnam.

The Volunteer Physicians for Vietnam, a non-profit, people-to-people organization which cares for Vietnamese civilians, has been sending physicians to South Vietnam since 1965.

The U.S. agency for International Development — AID — and the American Medical Association finance the program. Neerken volunteered for thoracic surgery and was assigned to Nha Trang.

U.P. In Need Of 780 Houses Each Year: FHA

The Federal Housing Administration today released its analysis of the Upper Peninsula housing market with demand for new housing estimated at 780 units a year for two years dating from Dec. 1, 1966.

The total includes 630 single-family houses and 150 units of multifamily housing, concentrated in the "central area" and in the "Copper Country" and

About 40 more units could be marketed in Marquette at the lower rents achievable with public benefits or assistance in financing. These figures do not include public low-rent or rent-supplement housing.

"As of Dec. 1, 1966, there were about 2,900 available vacant nondilapidated, nonseasonal housing units. About 1,100 were for sale and 1,800 for rent, vacancy rates of 1.6 and 7.1 per cent, respectively.

Of the 7,100 housing units added since 1960, over 2,300 are military housing units. Private nonseasonal housing construction has averaged 420 units yearly. "Judging from the number of building permits issued, the pace of private housing construction appears to be accelerating."

"The economy of much of the Upper Peninsula is based on extractive industries" including copper and iron mining and lumber and wood products manufacture. Employment has declined for several decades, but the decline appears to have been arrested in recent years. Based on expanding copper and iron mines as well as growth in manufacturing and nonmanufacturing, an increase of 1,200 to 1,800 jobs is expected in each of the next two years.

Unemployment averaged 7.3 per cent of the civilian work force in the first nine months of 1966. While high, this rate is below the peak of 13.8 per cent recorded in 1961.

"The Upper Peninsula is a low income area," the report states. The median income of all families, after deduction of federal income tax, is about $5,625. For renter households of two or more persons, it is $4,775. By 1968, these figures are expected to increase to $5,925 and $5,025, respectively.

In December 1966 the population of the area was 318,500, an increase of 12,550 since April 1960. The increase includes a gain of 8,950 in the military population. "During the next two years, the total population is expected to increase by about 2,850 annually."

There are 91,550 households in the area, including 3,925 military households. The number of households is expected to increase by about 750 a year during the next two years.

Copies of the analysis can be obtained from James H. McLaughlin, director, Federal Housing Administration, 921 Division Ave. N., Grand Rapids, Mich. 49503.

Charge Oakland Couple Cruel To Four Children

PONTIAC (AP) — An Oakland County man and woman today were free on $300 bond pending an Oct. 10 hearing in Waterford Township justice court on charges of cruelty to four small children.

Paul M. Maczko, 57, and Florence Lewis, 29, both of Independence Township, were arrested Friday on charges of abusing Mrs. Lewis' children.

Police said the four children, ranging in age between five and nine, were forced to live in a backyard shed and that two of them were once chained.
